There are two great shows left in the 2010 Mainstage Season:

'ART'

by Yasmina Reza

August 6th through 29th

This humorous and insightful Broadway hit by the Parisian-born Reza, explores the intricacies of a long-term friendship between three men, observed through the prism of modern art. When Serge spends an insane amount of money on a painting that is all white with three off-white lines on it, it serves to reveal the fissures that lie at the heart of the men's relationships with each other.

The Best Christmas Pageant Ever

by Barbara Robinson

November 26th through December 19th

This classic holiday play, adapted by Barbara Robinson from her 1972 novel, tells the story of a small town's efforts to stage the annual church Christmas pageant. When the play's director breaks her leg, Grace and Bob Bradley are forced to step in to carry on the tradition, a task made infinitely more difficult by the casting of the Herdman children: the meanest, nastiest, most inventively awful kids in history. The town soon comes to believe that this pageant will go down in history as the worst ever, but this comedy offers a refreshing perspective on the meaning and purpose of Christmas.
